

BY TOM CUNNEFF

Myrtle Beach has long been renowned for superior golf, but in the last 10 years, the rest of the amenities have caught up. Nowadays, a vacation to this golf-crazy playground will also yield good food, improved accommodations, and all kinds of nightlife fun. Suffice to say, Myrtle Beach just keeps adding to its linky riches.

Legends Golf & Resort
Myrtle Beach offers great value, but what's the grandest deal on the Grand Strand? It has to be Legends Golf & Resort's "Golf Bundle" package, which includes breakfast, lunch, and two draft beers or fountain drinks with every round. And with five of the best courses in the area, the golf is just as tasty.
Three of the courses at Legends — Heathland, Moorland, and Parkland — are right on property at the centrally located resort. None other than Tom Doak, perhaps the hottest architect going, designed Heathland, which he modeled on the great British links courses. The greens are enormous (look for his ode to the Road Hole green at the 7th).

Moorland is a diabolical P.B. Dye design with raised greens and deep bunkers, but it's got some drivable par-4s and reachable par-5s, so there are some birdies to be had.

The third course on property is Parkland, which features beautiful, Alister MacKenzie-style bunkering bordering massive, multi-level greens. Also on property are lodging options perfect for golfers — two and three-bedroom villas that are both spacious and homey with a TV...
